FINAL DETAILS LOOKED AFTER FOR RALLY; TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Fair Weather Will Mean Monster Republican Demonstration Here
This Evening

PARADE CHIEF FEATURE

Chief Marshal, C. O. Frye Maps Out Plans—Beaver County and Pittsburg Clubs to be in the Lead.

With the weather man behaving Charleroi tonight have one of the biggest Republican rallies in the present campaign in Western Pennsylvania. Gov. John K. Tener and a number of notable men will be here. There will be thousands upon thousands of visitors. Special trains and special cars are to be run. Delegations of marching clubs will come from Allegheny, Beaver, Westmoreland and Fayette counties and from all parts of Washington county.

Gov. Tener is to make the principal address from the stand on the corner of Fifth street and Washington avenue, which was erected today. Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart of the State militia and Senator W. E. Crow of Uniontown will be two other speakers. Gov. Tener is to bring a notable to make the fourth address.

One of the chief features of the demonstration will be a monster parade to take place beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Charles O. Frye is to be the chief marshal. The parade is to be in five divisions with Pittsburg and the Lincoln Marching club of 250 members of Beaver county leading.

From 2,000 to 5,000 men are expected to be in the line of parade. There will be ten bands and a drum corps. In the first division will be Beaver valley delegations and Pittsburg marching clubs, speakers and their mounted escort. In the second delegations from Washington, Canonsburg, Millsboro, Fredericktown, Brownsville, West Brownsville, California; in the third delegations from Marianna, Ellsworth, Bentleyville, Carroll, Monongahela, Donora; in the fourth, Monessen, Belle Vernon and Fayette City; and in the fifth division the Charleroi section.

The headquarters of the chief marshal will be on Fourth street between Fallowfield and Washington avenues. Dr. G. H. Smith is to be the color bearer. Horsemen will form an escort to the chief marshal. His aides will be C. C. Holyfield, James T. Heffran, John Cornell, John Anderson, J. O. Watson and Andy Chacko.

Chas. F. P. McCloskey, Henry Wagner, reception committee.

Fourth division, forms on Washington, fronting on Sixth, rear at Seve. John K. Riekey, marshal; Jack McDermott, Ray Emrick, aides; C. J. Mogan, D. A. Oates, Fred Brady reception committee.

Fifth division, forms on Sixth, fronting on Washington avenue. John Hott, marshal; aides, Jules Leroy, Charles Parent, Alfred Verkleren. The parade will be formed with mounted escorts from all towns in front of the chief marshal and color bearers; autos with speakers, candidates and others, then the divisions in order. Each division will march four abreast.

The line of march will be from the corner of Fourth and Fallowfield avenue up Fallowfield to Second; down Second to McKean avenue; down McKean to Ninth, up Ninth to Fallowfield, up Fallowfield to Third, up Third to Washington and review. Horsemen will come to review on Washington avenue above Third street. Autos will come to review on the right side of Washington just below to review on right side of Washington avenue just below Third street. The chief marshal and color bearer will escort the speakers in autos to the speakers' stand at Fifth and Washington. Autos will leave down Fifth street which will be the signal for the disbanding of the parade. Red fire and flags will be distributed by a committee in charge of W. R. Gaut.

What will prove a particularly interesting part of the parade will be that of miners who will march for the Taft administration cause wearing mine caps and lights.

Special trains and special cars are to arrive at 7 o'clock. From Marianna a special train will be run to make stops at various points along the Monongahela and Washington branch. A special carrying hundreds will come from Fredericktown, extra cars will be put on for Monongahela and Donora folks. Washington, Canonsburg and interior parts of this county will send marching clubs and Republican delegations by special trolley cars.

James J. Hott, ex-burgess of Charleroi, and the president of the Charleroi Taft and Sherman club will preside at the meeting. Upon the platform with him will be grouped a number of vice presidents, who were named today by a special committee of local workers. These vice presidents are:

Hon. J. F. Taylor, Hon. J. A. McIlvaine, H. J. Booth, Lee Showers, F. M. Haines, Neri Newcomb, J. W. Cordes, C. R. Peregrine, C. J. Mogan, John C. McKean, Rev. J. Sechinsky, Joseph Brandt, Frank Fagua, Rev. J. W. Wilson, Dr. G. G. Crow, Frank Elva, Wm. Kirk, Hugh E. Fergus, D. M. McCloskey, Dr. A. O. Davis, John Monier, W. A. Micksch, John Irons, Dr. H. C. Will Sing From Clouds

Miss Blanche Babette Formerly Charleroi Girl to Make Flight With Frank Coffin

Henry Hutt, whose beautiful painting of Blanche Babette, the popular dramatic soprano, is reproduced on the front page of the art section today, named the original "A Typical Irish-American Girl," and under that name it will be placed on exhibition this winter at the celebrated Paris Art Review.

"Miss Babette's career as a singer dates back to the time when as a child she appeared and was billed as the 'Juvenile Dramatic Soprano.' For four years she held the position of principal soprano in a large metropolitan church and was finally induced to enter upon a stage career. She jumped into popularity at once principally on account of her versatility and remarkable vocal ability.

"Off the stage Miss Babette is a typical 'Tomboy,' doing all sorts of daring feats in athletics. Her ability to handle motor boats and automobiles has led her to cast longing eyes at aeroplanes and flying machines. She has already made a balloon ascension at the Danbury Fair and last week arranged to go as passenger with Frank Coffin in a flight he will make during the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven. Miss Babette promises that during the flight she will sing the popular songs of the day."

GIRLS' CIRCLE ENTERTAINED AT SPEERS' HOME

Miss Sara Speers entertained the Young Ladies Circle of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church at her home in Speers Tuesday evening.

Miss Elma Collins led the meeting and "The Social Life in India" was discussed. Miss Collins was assisted by Misses Bessie Ritchie, Ethel Kendrick, Nina Grove and Marguerite Whitlatch. Miss Marie Whitehead gave a reading and Miss Emma Clutter sang a solo. Decorations were in accord with the sentiment of Halloween. A number of visitors were present.

RAILROAD MORTALITY RATE HIGH

Trespassers Themselves Blamed by Pennsylvania System

LARGE SUMS ARE SPENT

That the railroads of the country expect to "put up to the public" part of the responsibility for accidents was indicated recently when the Pennsylvania Railroad issued a statement calling attention to the fatalities on its road last year from trespassing.

Trespassers to the number of 527—more than one a day—lost their lives last year on the Pennsylvania Railroad, while violating the law. Many trespassers are mischief makers, according to the railroad. They smash signal and switch lamps place obstructions on the tracks and commit many other acts which endanger the lives of railway employees and the traveling public.

Last year the Pennsylvania Railroad Police Department spent more than $100,000 in its war against trespassing, but it is impossible for the Company's police satisfactorily to cope with the situation, according to the railroad. It needs the assistance of public opinion and the civil authorities.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's statement continued: "Trespassing endangers the lives of every one traveling on the roads. It can be stopped if necessary measures will be taken by the public. There are laws on the statute books. Their rigid enforcement will save the lives of many and will decrease the number of fatalities commonly ascribed to 'railway accidents.'"

MONONGAHELA VALLEY GREEKS ANSWER CALL

Much Trading At California

Numerous Real Estate Deals Put Through There During Last Few Weeks

It is stated that unusual activity in California real estate has marked the last two weeks, and transactions running well up into thousands of dollars have been reported. Many town-people have purchased residences and a number of outsiders have bought real estate and residences in the town.

The fact that California is considered desirable as a residence and educational town on the river has helped boom real estate values, and good prices are being paid for property. There is also a greater demand for renting property than can be supplied.

PROF. DANIEL DIRECTOR

Action was taken to put the Charleroi Choral Society on a firm financial basis at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church. Assessments of one dollar a season are to be paid by the various members and a number of the male members of the organization are to become guarantors. An effort will be made to start rehearsals two weeks hence when it is probably a hall will be secured. Prof. I. T. Daniel was formally elected director and Miss Elsie Crill accompanist.

A constitution was adopted. President Christy Roberts appointed two committees, as follows: Music committee, W. S. James, Dr. C. C. Wright, William Clark, A. L. Bowers, J. A. Bowman; application committee, Miss Blanche Frye, Mrs. C. C. Wright, L. E. Jones, Miss Clara Cooper and D. C. Whitlatch.

COMMITTEE TO ENTERTAIN MEN WHO WILL SPEAK

A reception committee to look after the entertainment of speakers has been appointed by the Republican committee arranging the demonstration tonight as follows. Charles F. Thompson, chairman; K. W. Daly, Jesse K. Johnson, E. C. Niver, H. J. Booth, C. R. Peregrine, F. M. Haines, Lee Showers, Neri Newcomb and William Kirk.

Reserves Drilling at Home Here in Anticipation of Demand for Troops

The Monongahela valley is to contribute to the Grecian army in its war against Turkey. Monessen where Greece is well represented has already sent out 15 patriots and are ready to follow at a moment's notice. Pittsburg has contributed, likewise Wheeling and other points where there are many Greeks.

The Monessen delegation of fighters left Sunday afternoon. Early in the afternoon a farewell reception was tendered the departing ones by their friends and neighbors. They were extended the good wishes and messages of cheer were sent abroad to those who are so nobly espousing the cause now.

Four hundred men are available at Monessen but the Grecian government has only called upon the reserves which left Sunday. They will be drilled in Greece for actual warfare. The remaining volunteers will be drilled at home here and should the war continue any length of time will be ready for action. They anticipate a call.

Included in some of the Monessen Greeks which have left are some of the best known men of this race in the vicinity. Some of them were compelled to sell out their business interests in order to answer the call. They were met at McKeesport by a number of patriots and went directly to New York from whence they will sail in a day or two.

MONESSEN AND DONORA ELKS TO PLAY FOOTBALL

Extensive preparations are being made by the Elk lodges of Monessen and Donora for a meeting of picked teams on the gridiron in the near future at Donora. Rube Watkins manager of the Monessen eleven is gathering an aggregation under his wing to cross the river and clean up on the Donora boys while the Coulson boys of Donora, of Penn State and Bucknell fame, have in charge the marshaling of opposition that is expected to take some of the conceit out of the Monessen players.

Hurt By Auto.

A boy by the name of Fillingham about 13 years old was struck by accident by an automobile last night and sustained a severe scalp wound. The accident occurred on Fourth street. He was taken to the home of a physician who dressed his wound. Thirteen stitches in the scalp were required.

RALLY, REPUBLICANS.

Once again Charleroi is in the limelight. Our town has been selected as the rallying point for the Republicans of the three counties bordering on the Monongahela river, and it is here that the cohorts of the party of Abraham Lincoln proposes to show to the state at large that the principles of Republicanism and protection to American industry are still sacred in a section that owes its industrial prosperity and well-being to the beneficial administration of this party. That being the case it behooves us as a community to put forth every effort to make the occasion a success, and every Republican should show by his presence and participation in the big parade that he is staunch for the principles that mean so much for the material welfare of himself and his neighbors.

Charleroi has had the reputation of making a success of every undertaking the people here have promoted, and it is safe to assume that this one will be no exception. It is most fitting that our people should turn out en masse to receive the chief executive of the Commonwealth, as well as to honor an esteemed townsman, whom the people of the state have in turn specially honored. It is a matter of civic pride as well as of principle that our Republican citizens should again unite to sustain Char-leroi's staunchness in upholding the chief executive of our state in his loyalty to President Taft and the Republican party that elected him.
Therefore, every Republican take part in the parade and show his devotion to his party. His example will be helpful and inspiring and his activity will bear fruit on election day.

THE FAITH OF OUR FATHERS

In individual and private life, as well as with public institutions, there comes a time when the principles, the ethics and even the conduct of life of the elders are ruthlessly assailed by the younger generation. The elders, the fathers, who have borne the brunt of the battle, fought the fight, triumphed in the struggle for existence and firmly established political and religious liberty on a solid foundation, are thought to be no longer capable of conducting the affairs they have given their life's blood and efforts to attain. They are thought to be old-fashioned, non-progressive and out of date, and for that reason new and untried forces seek

A young man to wealth did aspire, And the lure caused him to take a flier

But in this he was bent; He sold short and the price it went higher.

to displace them. Those who in a thousand battles have learned wisdom, the value of caution, safety and justice, are thrust aside to give place to the impetuous rush of the advocates of new and untried methods. The faith of the fathers becomes intolerable to the younger generation.

This is what is happening to the Republican party today. The party that was founded on human liberty—
a protest against human slavery—
most violently assailed, yet its principles and precepts are as forceful and applicable today as in the strenuous period preceding the civil war.
The party is as capable of a glorious future as it is immortal in its glorious past. Equality, justice and humanity are unchanging, and these are the attributes of Republicanism, and they were upheld on a thousand battlefields. Is it just and proper that they should go down today and give place to new and untried theories of government as unachievable illadapted to practical life as were the vagaries of the French Revolution?

It is the faith of our fathers in religious matters that has caused Christianity to triumph, and this same faith in political and civic liberty can alone sustain us in this time of political unrest. The Republican party has the essentials of civic and political liberty which can be adapted to meet every requirement. If abuses have crept into the party management they can be corrected. It is not necessary to tear down what has cost our fathers so dearly in blood and treasure to build up, and which is responsible for the blessings that we enjoy today. Republicans, rally to the faith of your fathers. It is your only salvation in this, your time of stress and danger.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

To evade taxes seems with some people to be an art.

Political sharks have it all figured out to the extreme, even to that extreme of what will Congress do if the people fail and it deadlocks on the election of a president.

It is a safe bet that there will be few wheel barrow rides after election.
Snow has fallen in North Dakota.
It is due in the east somewhere next Tuesday.

The Fly looked around at her progeny As they swarmed up the walls and stair
And proudly smiled, "Well, it seems to me
That I am a sort of a Carnegie.
For I rank with the million-hair."

One of the things I have come to keep in record as a motto for brides.

The Chicago professor who prefers jail to eating hash has our entire respect and sympathy.

To the Democrats who are supporting Wilson, Dr. Elihu's speech in New England was a classic utterance of the kind that only Bryan would be capable of.

Sometimes it seems as if men join a political party just to give them a chance to make a speech.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"While betting on election does not as a rule determine the result, it sometimes is a potent factor in changing the tide in a close contest," said an old timer this morning, who has been a close political observer during a number of presidential campaigns. "Perhaps the most notable instance where betting turned the tide in a close state was in New York in 1888. That was the campaign where Grover Cleveland was renominated to run against Benjamin Harrison, and the latter won out by the shrewd management of the late Senator M. S. Quay of Pennsylvania, who was national chairman.

"Sure of victory, the Tammany followers in New York were flashing large sums of money and taking every bet they could with odds on Cleveland. The Republican chairman felt the effect of this, and determined to bluff it down. Under the management of a noted sporting man of
New York, Col. Swords, Senate Quay sent a corps of nifty agent out with money to burn and cover all Democratic money at white odds were offered. So completely was this done that under Col. Swords' skillful manipulation the tide of betting was completely turned, and in a single day big odds were offered on Harrison with few takers.

"It was a shrewd trick on the part of Senator Quay, and had the effect of getting thousands of the sporting fraternity who had to hedge on the bets out to hustle for the Republican ticket. It is stated that hundreds of Tammany ward heelers in New York city who had bet heavily on Cleveland hedged on their bets and then hustled for the Republican ticket in order to save themselves.
Senator Quay often remarked of ar-ward that this was one of the most gigantic political bluffs he ever pulled off. It worked all right, and all the Republican money won out, except in some instances where impossible odds had been given.

"Some years ago when Hon. Joseph C. Sibley was making one of his congressional campaigns in the Venango district in this state, the situation was close with the chances decidedly against him. It is stated that Sibley, who was a shrewd judge
of human nature, got a list of a few young fellows in every election precinct who had sporting proclivities, and made a personal visit to each
one. Buttonholing one of these it is said that Sibley would take him aside
and say:

"I'm sure to win out in this fight and you will be safe to put some money on the result."

"Usually the answer would be that the young man did not care to risk any money or that he had none to bet.

"Oh, that's all right," Sibley would reply, "Here's fifty," or twenty-five, as the case might be, "just take this and bet it on my election. Then if you win you can keep the money. If you lose, you're not out anything."

"As a rule this offer was readily accepted and the result was that Sibley had a large bunch of hard political workers in each precinct who had a direct personal interest in his election, and who contributed materially to his success, for he was elected in a district that usually voted the other way. This is a story that was told at the time, and while I cannot vouch for its truthfulness, it is sure that Sibley was elected in a district that was actually hopeless from a political standpoint."

An Explorer's Stratagem.
Sir Harry Johnston, the famous explorer, once escaped from a very tight corner in Africa by a queer stratagem.
A score or two of murderous natives had surrounded his tent, into which before rushing they sent an envoy.
The envoy was told the smallpox was in the camp, and a wretched albino was sent out as the awful example.
In five minutes the scared tribesmen had vanished. As Sir Harry well knew, they feared the "white disease" more

WOULD LOSE WITH WILSON

Lose Our Prosperity, Lose Our Jobs, Warns Taft, Who Says
the Very Name is Reminiscent of Free-Trade Disaster.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft has written a letter to John Wanamaker at Philadelphia, thanking him for his efforts in behalf of the Republican party. Mr. Taft says:

"There are certain facts that stand out so prominently in this campaign that I cannot conceive how a majority of our voters can fail to apprehend them. They are that a vote cast for the third party is a vote cast for the Democratic ticket, and that a vote cast for the Democratic ticket is a vote cast for economic experimentation, which, under the most favorable circumstances, would mean lack of business confidence, the calling of loans, a stringency of the money market, the suspension of manufacturing,
the destruction of the market for farm products because the people had no money to buy, and untold suffering for the wage-earner and his family.

"I want to thank you for the splendid work you are doing for the success of the Republican party in the approaching election. I thank you not for myself alone but for the people at large,
who have so much to lose, so little to gain, from a change of administration, who will indeed suffer if a Democratic President and Democratic Congress secure the opportunity to make good their platform pledges, and an extra session of Congress is called next March to change the tariff from a protective to a revenue basis.

"We have experimented in the past with the tariff theories of our Democratic friends. You will recall as clearly as I do the distress which followed the passage of the Wilson bill.
Is there not a certain significance in
the fact that it is another Wilson who would again subject us to such an experiment? Wilson and prosperity are words that refuse to go together in our American history.

"You recall the report of Mayor Gilroy on conditions in New York when he and his Democratic administration conducted an investigation into the hardship and suffering which prevailed in 1894, and found that 185,000 persons were dependent on charity because 52,000 men and nearly 15,000
women who under normal conditions experienced no difficulty in securing employment were out of work. You can recall the days when, as the result of just such tariff 'readjustment'
as our Democratic friends now propose, there were soup kitchens in every large city, when able-bodied men were compelled to beg from door to door, while women and their little children died of starvation or were starved in their development from the privation they were compelled to undergo.

"The election of a Democratic President would mean the election of a Democratic Senate and House, and the present Congress has proved how savagely and with what recklessness
the Democrats would deal with the tariff if they were in full control of the executive and legislative branches of government. I cannot understand how any American voter can fail to see that by throwing away his vote on the third party or by voting to put the Democrats in power in the White House and in Congress he is assuredly courting disaster as is the small child playing with matches. And so, Mr. Wanamaker, far above any personal consideration, I am grateful to you and to all who like you are help-

TAFT LANDSLIDE IN NEW YORK STATE

The New York Republican Chairman States That Canvass Indicates Ticket Will Come to the Harlem with 110,000.

New York—At the Republican State
headquarters this statement was given by W. E. Van Buren, Jr., after a conference of the leaders:

Four hundred and ninety-five election districts out of a total of 515 outside of New York City report through the canvass completed, the following vote for President: Taft 68,950
Wilson 51,264
Debs 1,985
Chas. 3,187
Roosevelt 18,363
Taft's plurality 17,686.

The same districts report as follows
for Governor:

Hedge 69,078
Sulzer 50,288
Russell 1,613
MacNichol 3,150
Straus 18,617
Hedges' plurality 18,840.
This ratio of vote, if carried out throughout the entire State, indicates a vote outside of New York City for President Taft, as follows:
Taft 431,364
Wilson 321,037
Debs 12,394
Chas. 20,916
Roosevelt 114,860
Taft's plurality 110,224.

These canvasses are carefully made
and have been a reliable guide to the Republican State Committee for the last fifteen years.

Contrast the Sturring Remarks of the Academician and Theorist with President Taft's Views Based on Actual Experience.

Efforts on the part of Candidate Wilson and his managers to placate labor do not seem to be meeting with much success. The candidate's real opinion of labor is too well known to cause laboring men to grow wildly enthusiastic over him.

In a baccalaureate address to the graduating class at Princeton on June 13, 1909, Dr. Wilson said:

"You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trades unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform.
No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do. In some trades and handicrafts no one is suffered to do more than the least skillful of his fellows can do within
the hours allotted to a day's labor,
and no one may work out of hours at all or volunteer anything beyond the minimum. I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. It is so unprofitable to the employer that in some trades it will presently not be worth while to attempt anything at all. He had better stop altogether than operate at an inevitable and invariable loss. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under its present regulation by those who have determined to reduce it to a minimum. Our economic supremacy may be lost because
of unprofitable servants."

Contrast the statement of Candidate Wilson with the following statement made by President Taft in a speech
at Cooper Union, New York:

"The effect of the organization of labor, on the whole, has been highly beneficial in securing better terms of employment for the whole laboring community. * * * I have not the slightest doubt, and no one who knows anything about the subject can doubt, that the existence of labor unions steadies wages."

Candidate Wilson was talking as an academician and theorist, with characteristic lack of exact knowledge.
President Taft was talking out of actual experience and knowledge gained from primary sources. The contrast in the statements emphasizes the contrast in the men.

Do You Want to Send Our Automobile
Business to Europe?

Detroit, Mich.—"The American Protective tariff system is of vital importance to every American factory, workshop and industrial plant. Because this is a fact the writer has given the question of protection much study for the past few years. During that time there has been no effort to lower the tariff rates or any really concerted effort to change them that has not resulted in a serious industrial depression, with the further result that thousands of American workmen have been layed off and factories
a material reduction in the number of men employed. As a nation we are paying the highest wages paid to mechanics and operatives anywhere in the world. Our prosperity is largely due to our tariff, which protects us against the cheap labor and cheap material of other nations.

"To illustrate: Take our business
in the manufacture of automobiles.
If we were assured that free trade is
to prevail in this country we could close out our business here and transfer it to Belgium, Hungary, China, Japan, or some other country where wages are at the present time from 10 to 50 per cent. of what they are here, and where the material used is also much cheaper than in this country. We could then, after paying freight, put these same automobiles down in New York for perhaps 50 to 60 per cent. of the cost to make them in this country, and the competitor in the United States who continued to manufacture a car to compete with us in price and quality would have but one course left open to him, and that would be to close his place and go out of business. What we could do with automobiles could be done with the manufacture of boots, shoes, sewing machines, guns, machine tools, locomotives and nearly everything we manufacture in the United States.
"It is so forceful and convincing to any thoughtful person when he reasons it out that if we buy an automobile, for instance, in Belgium, then we have the automobile and they have the money, and when the automobile is worn out we have to auto, and Belgium still has the money; and if we buy an automobile that is made in this country, then we have the automobile as before and we also have the money; and when the auto is worn out the money is here to buy another one. The enormous advantage to the American workman and
business man is obvious.

"And the illustration applies with equal force to almost every article that can be manufactured in the United States.

"Our long experience and our best judgment tells us that if we elect a Free Trade or Tariff for Revenue Congress and Administration, it will be followed by a serious depression in all kinds of business, except the importers' business; that thousands of workmen will be without work; that many factories will close and others
will go on short hours.

Flags at mast. Ever since flags were used in war it has been the custom to have the flag of the superior or conquering nation above that of the inferior or vanquished. When an army found itself hopelessly beaten it hauled its flag down far enough for the flag of the victors to be placed above it on the same pole. This was a token not only of submission, but of respect. In those days when a famous soldier died flags were lowered out of respect to his memory. The custom long ago passed from purely military usage to public life of all kinds, the flag flying at half mast being a sign that the dead man was worthy of universal respect. The space left above it is for the flag of the great conqueror of all, the angel of death.

PRESIDENT SEES VICTORY AT POLLS

Mr. Taft Says It's Open Secret That Progressives Do Not Expect Success and That Every Mail Tells of Wanderers' Return.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft issued a statement predicting Republican victory next month, and declaring it "obvious that either the Republican or Democratic nominees will be elected." He asserts it to be an open secret that "the third party does not expect success."

The President reviews business conditions of the country, which, he says, are unprecedentedly prosperous, and asserts the belief that the sober judgment of the voters will continue present conditions.

President Taft says that from all parts of the country assurances are coming that Democrats intend to vote for the Republican candidates and a continuance of prosperity and against the programme of economic confusion and socialistic subversion of American institutions supported by Democratic candidates and their allies. He calls attention to the great progress of the country since 1860 as regards the home and foreign markets, and says that the American manufacturer and worker would not have much spirit left for invading the foreign market if deprived by a Democratic tariff for revenue only of the home market, which they now control, thanks to the Republican protective tariff.

The President's Statement.

The President's statement follows: "Fifty-two years ago seceders from the Union thought they were facing a divided North and would win an easy victory. There had been division among the loyal people, but all united in face of the common danger, and in addition a great number of Democrats joined the Republicans in the successful struggle for the nation's life. Then it was said by hostile critics that the ship of state was drifting. It drifted—yes—with Lincoln at the helm, from the reefs of secession and slavery into the placid waters of union and liberty. Under Lincoln's successors it has sailed on, propelled by the winds of prosperity, save when its voyage has been halted by just such a visitation of storm and stress, of torn protection, tails and broken business bulkheads as we are now threatened with, should Baltimore supplant Chicago, which it did not in 1860, and will not in 1912.

"Our friends the enemy say that the Democracy has learned its mistakes, and does not mean to repeat them. In some measure true as to the past; and the Republican party has had a difficult, if successful task in teaching the Democracy its mistakes, so far as it has been taught; but somehow the obstinate pupil comes forward every four years to be taught again.

"I am glad to say, however," the President added, "that many Democrats have learned their lessons well, and are refusing to leave the firm ground of national prosperity for the quagmire of business disruption, trade depression and commercial and industrial depletion.

"From all parts of the country assurances are coming that Democrats intend to vote for the Republican candidates and a continuance of prosperous business conditions, and against the programmes of economic confusion and socialistic subversion of our institutions supported by the Democratic candidates and their allies. Democratic workmen refuse to be led from the factory and good wages of 1912 back to the Democratic hard times of 1893-97. They prefer independence and money in the savings bank to loss of employment and dependence on charity.

Pay Envelopes Feeders of Trade. "Democratic business men feel the same way. They know that when industries languish their business languishes, too. The pay envelopes of the feeders of trade in every line. When they are empty or scrippled, the biggest department stores feel the effect as well as the corner grocery."

President Taft continued: "I believe that the Republican party will be found, as a whole," President Taft concluded, "too patriotic, too loyal to its principles and its traditions, too just in its attitude toward public servants whom it has entrusted with duties faithfully performed to commit harshness in the form and for the objects indicated. Every mail brings assurances that those who have strayed are returning to the fold, and that in every state in which the Republican party is not disfranchised old-time measures will be rolled up for the Republican candidates."

President Johnson's progressive administration of California has cost the state during its first year a million more than the last year. The previous administration cost and it is asserted that the holders of the many new jobs created are required "voluntarily" to contribute ten percent of their pay to the Roosevelt-Johnson campaign sack.

Nearly four years of honest, wise, efficient and economical Republican administration in national affairs has produced a condition where presidential politics has ceased to be a disturbing factor in the economic life of the nation. Still there are those who are clamoring for a change for the purpose of altering our scheme of government.

Charge Would Cost Home Market. "The American manufacturer and the American worker," President Taft declared, "would not have much spirit left for invading the foreign market if deprived by a Democratic tariff for revenue only of the best market of all, more than equal in purchasing power to all Europe, the home market, which they now control, thanks to the Republican protective tariff."

The statement goes on to say: "German foreign commerce is also making great advances, particularly among our neighbors of South America, but a suggestion that Germany should, for that reason, take protection out of its tariff would probably be received with arching of eyebrows by German statesmen and economists."

"And this unprecedented growth of our foreign trade is accompanied by expansion as unprecedented in our home trade from one end of the country to the other—the Atlantic to the Pacific, the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande. It is not a sudden inflation but a gradual advance under favorable conditions from the prostration of 1901 to prosperity as substantial as it is general."

"All industries are humming and there is work at good wages—priced, compared with wages abroad—for all who are willing to work, while in the Pittsburgh district, alone, I understand, there is a demand for at least thirty thousand workers in excess of the number available. Business, wholesale and retail, is active and profitable, for the people have money with which to buy. The question for the American voter is whether this condition shall continue, and the nation shall go forward to even greater prosperity."

"The farmers are enjoying the greatest prosperity in the experience of American agriculture. Every day the Northern Pacific is carrying a million bushels of grain to Duluth. The yield in that zone alone is 157,000,000 bushels, so that the conveyance by the railway of the farmers' grain from the region tributary to the Northern Pacific to that point of distribution will require 157 days. This vast crop is worth in excess of $100,000,000 to the farmers producing it."

"At the present the steel industry, commonly regarded as the barometer of business, is driven far ahead for steel rails. Other industries are equally active, and altogether national conditions and prospects were never so prosperous and promising, provided the American people decide to apply to their political choice the same good judgment and prudent foresight which they apply, as a rule, to their personal affairs."

"As we come nearer the day of election," says Mr. Taft, "it is to be expected that the intelligent voter will appreciate more keenly the responsibility which attaches to his ballot. In national elections, at least, the great majority like to feel that they are voting for a candidate who has a chance of success. It is obvious that either the Republican or the Democratic nominees will be elected, and not to vote for the Republican candidates is, in effect, to support their Democratic opponents and the Democratic platform of a 'tariff for revenue only,' freighted with dire consequences for the country, now busy and prosperous under Republican rule. It is well known to every one, an open secret on every street corner, that the Third Term party does not expect success."

The President continues: "A special correspondent of 'The New York Evening Post,' writing from Chicago, says: 'It may be said that neither Colonel Roosevelt nor any of the experienced politicians who surround him expects to carry Illinois or any other important state, with the possible exception of California and Kansas. From sources close to the candidate it is learned that Colonel Roosevelt will be satisfied if he can complete the democratization of the Republican party.'

"It remains to be seen how many Republicans are willing to assist in completing the democratization of the Republican party and handing the reins of government over to the Democrats to gratify mere desire for revenge."

"I believe that the Republican party will be found, as a whole," President Taft concluded, "too patriotic, too loyal to its principles and its traditions, too just in its attitude toward public servants whom it has entrusted with duties faithfully performed to commit harshness in the form and for the objects indicated. Every mail brings assurances that those who have strayed are returning to the fold, and that in every state in which the Republican party is not disfranchised old-time measures will be rolled up for the Republican candidates."

President Johnson's progressive administration of California has cost the state during its first year a million more than the last year. The previous administration cost and it is asserted that the holders of the many new jobs created are required "voluntarily" to contribute ten percent of their pay to the Roosevelt-Johnson campaign sack.

Nearly four years of honest, wise, efficient and economical Republican administration in national affairs has produced a condition where presidential politics has ceased to be a disturbing factor in the economic life of the nation. Still there are those who are clamoring for a change for the purpose of altering our scheme of government.

The matter with Kansas just now seems to be an overdose of slick politics. Indications are that Kansas will reject the dose.

HIDEOUS PUNISHMENTS.

Murderers Were Once Buried Alive Too to Their Victims.

Old time punishment for offenses at sea was most severe. The code of the time of Richard I. of England, drawn up for the government of his fleet on the crusades, provided that "whoso killed any person on shipboard should be cast into the sea with a stone and thrown into the sea. And if he killed him on the land he should be hanged and be buried with him in the earth."

In Elizabeth's time a thief was to be ducked three times, towed ashore at the stern of a boat and manacled with a loaf of bread and a can of beer. Mutiny was punishable by the culprit's being hanged by his heels until his brains were beaten out against the ship's side."

The penalties imposed for slavery on watch were progressive. For the first offense the man was to be "beaten" with a bucket of water; on the next occasion he was to be strung up by his wrists and to have two buckets of water poured into his sleeves; the third time he would be flogged with weights and bound to the mast; and "for the fourth time he was to be hanged to the bel-sprit, with a can of beer and a biscotte of bread and a sharp knife, and so to hang and choose whether he would cut himself self down and fall into the sea or hang still and starve."

Among the rules issued by Raleigh for the governing of his South American expedition in 1617 was that no man should be allowed to gamble for his arms or clothes "on the pain of being disgraced and made a swabber of the ship." A general punishment for blasphemy at this time was for the offender to be bound to the mainmast with an iron bit between his teeth, the alternative being a scraping of the tongue. All sorts of odd and frequently hideous punishments are to be found described in old manuscripts. In 1775 a man found drunk aboard or ashore was taken care of until the following morning, when in the presence of the ship's company he was presented with a pint of salt water, which he had to drink.

The dreaded "cat" is probably the best known of these old naval punishments. Whipping was provided for at least as long ago as the fifteenth century, and in Drake's time the regular flogging of the ship's boys by the boatswain on Monday morning was regarded as the only means of insuring a fair wind for the rest of the week. Clergyman's Son Had Tuberculosis; Now Well

"Gentlemen: Prior to Feb. 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with LaGrèpe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 pounds. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alternative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite. The first two months, I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alternative."

F. H. COWLES.
"Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life. I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimonial."

(Signed) REV. J. J. COWLES, Pastor Presbyterian Church, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in smothering the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, 1314 Broadway, N. Y., for name of dealer. "By George, That's a Tonic for Your Life!"

Without Narcotics, Alcohol or Mineral Drugs—Purely Vegetable. It's a Wonder.

Millions have been waiting for it for years—a tonic without narcotics, opiates, alcohol, or any mineral drug! A tonic that builds up wonderfully, nerve tissue and nerve strength. A tonic that builds you up in better condition than a six months' vacation could do. Gives you the nerve strength and the brain clearness to dig right into your work with a vengeance and to be happy over it, and to enjoy yourself as strenuously as you work.

You soon forget you've been "all in." No more insomnia for you, no more brain fog, feeling of collapse, tremble, feeling, ambition, nervous indigestion, worry, lack of get-together energy, and headaches, no more. You've taken the tonic of the new era in science, Wade's Golden Nerve, a triumph of the laboratory. It's safe for everybody, for you. You'll feel the difference in a few days, and your friends will see it.

Wade's Golden Nerve is sold at druggists, at $1.00 a liberal-size package, or sent on receipt of price, by the Gem Medicine Company, St. Louis, Mo. It's worth a good many more dollars to you.

Wade's Golden Nerve is sold in Charlevoix by Hennings' Drug Store.

Seventeenth Century Grocers.

Department stores would have fared hard in the seventeenth century unless their proprietors could have induced parliament to grant more privileges than were allowed to other shopkeepers. The articles that a grocer might sell were definitely prescribed. They were "raysons, currants, sugar, spice, soap, candles, molasses, gunpowder, shot, match, tar, pitch, rosin, tobacco, cotton yarn, starch, bluing, prunes, figs, linseed oil, lead, olives, figs, Spanish white alabaster, alum, almonds, brimstone, lampblack and candle rushes."

No Money, No Marriage.

"A fortune teller told me that you are going to marry me," said the young man with the prominent socks. "Did she also tell you that you are going to inherit a very large fortune?" inquired the girl with the matinee hair. "She didn't say anything about a fortune."

"Then she is not much of a fortune teller, and you had better not place any reliance on anything she says."—Washington Herald Byles on Biles.

Among the humorous memories connected with English judges is one of Justice Byles and his horse. This eminent jurist was well known in his profession for his work on "Biles," and as this gave a fine opportunity for alliteration his associates were accustomed to bestow the name on the horse, which was a very sorry steed. "These goes Byles on Biles," they took pleasure in saying, and the judge rode out every afternoon only to be ridiculed daily in their little joke. But the truth was that the horse had another name, known only to the master and his man, and when a too curious client inquired as to the judge's whereabouts he was told by the servant, with a clear conscience that "master was out on Business."

RAINBOW IS A BACK NUMBER

It is Put Out of the Running by the Varied Coloring in Men's Socks.

"The rainbow isn't in it now with the socks worn by men," said, between stations, an elevated railroad guard to his neighbor on the platform and he continued:

"Just glance in there, will you, and let your eye range along at the men's feet. Purple, green, yellow, blue, red, gray, pink and black socks, and socks of one color with spots of another and socks with stripes in 'em and cross-bars and socks of various colors mixed, and I'll bet with all those colors that knock heck out of the rainbow you see that one pair there with no color in 'em plainest of all? Sure, it's that pair of white socks, the only pair in the car; and you might travel here day after day and not see an other pair.

"They tell me, and I can just remember a little of it myself, that there was a time when men didn't wear anything but white socks. White socks, and maybe some gray, and then they came to black, but who'd have thought they'd ever come to this? I tell you— and he broke off to yell: "Umpty-ump stree—t! Umpty-ump stree—t!"

"The rainbow's a back number now," he added.

DO YOU KNOW, MR. VOTER, WHAT TAFT HAS DONE?

Well, if you don't it's because he has worked so quietly and so effectively that you have failed to notice it. You have failed to find out what he has done for your country.

He has done without brains and without a politician's cunning—he is a gentleman and a statesman.

He is satisfied to work out his constructive plans and to let his own merits speak for him—even if you don't happen to know all he is doing and has done—even if he is not appreciated by unthinking people or the people who will not take the trouble to learn for themselves what he has done for the country.

But you ought to know what he has done. It's your business, as a stockholder in the biggest concern on earth—the United States—to know Mr. Taft has—

Established postal banks, secured 43 indictments against un-American trusts, created a Bureau of Mines, turned a deficit in the Treasury into a surplus, wiped out the "white slave" traffic, established a board to take the tariff out of politics, secured 30 million a year taxes from corporations negotiated peace treaties which were defeated by Democrats and so-called "Progressives," vetoed Free Trade tariff bills which would have destroyed American industries, stopped "pork barrel" river and harbor appropriations, created a Court of Customs Appeals, argued and secured legislation for parcels post, protected thousands of government employees from the "political axe," maintained peace in Cuba, abrogated the unjust Russian passport treaty, enforced the eight-hour law, upheld the Constitution of the United States, recommended world-wide investigation of the cost of living, insisted on the passage of an Employer's Liability and Workmen's Compensation Law, established a Child's Bureau, placed the Post Office on a self-sustaining basis, saved millions by business methods, pushed work on the Panama Canal, will apply Workingmen's Compensation Law to workmen in Canal zone, and many other acts and deeds too numerous even to mention briefly.

Now, for your own sake, don't you honestly think you deserve to have a man like Mr. Taft, who can so wisely and ably manage and direct your part of this big business of running the government?

HOW PRESIDENT TAFT ENFORCED PURE FOOD LAWS

Charles D. Hilles, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, has issued the following statement.

Opponents of President Taft's administration and of his re-election have issued a pamphlet containing an attack upon his administration of the Federal health laws.

This is a subject of such direct vital interest to the American people that I deem it due to them to make explicit and specific denial of the charges set forth.

President Taft during his entire administration has displayed the keenest interest in the proper enforcement of existing Federal health laws. He has not been content with this, but has recommended to Congress comprehensive legislation providing for a bureau of public health under which all the activities of the Federal Government relating to that subject might be grouped.

On May 29th, 1911, the Supreme Court of the United States held that the Pure Food Act did not cover the knowingly false labeling of nostrums as to curative effect or physiological action. Less than a month later President Taft sent a ringing message to Congress demanding an amendment to the law.

On August 23, 1912, Congress heeded the message of the President, and passed an amendment which cures the defect in the law pointed out by the Supreme Court.

The Food and Drugs Act has been vigorously and effectively enforced from the beginning. The Act became effective January 1, 1907, and from that date over 4,000 cases have been transmitted to the Department of Justice for action. In practically all concluded criminal cases convictions have been secured. In seizure cases dozens of condemnations and forfeitures have uniformly resulted.

More than 1,000 cases have been successfully prosecuted since March, 1909. Since that date fines amounting to $30,000 have been assessed against defendants in criminal cases with costs of equal or greater amount, and dozens of condemnations and forfeitures have been taken against more than 500 shipments of foods and drugs. Reports received by the Bureau of Chemistry from its laboratories in different sections of the country show conclusively that the successful prosecutions of violators of the Food and Drugs Act have produced a marked improvement in the sanitary condition of factories and in the quality of foods and drugs.

During the administration of President Taft 165 defendants have been convicted of violations of the meat inspection law, thousands of dollars have been collected in fines, and in some cases jail sentences have been imposed.

ROOSEVELT OR WILSON.

Taft is out of the running; the official ballot shows it. The Penrose Machine has, by trick, placed "Bull Moose" and "Roosevelt Progressive" tickets on the ballot besides the Washington ticket, the only one authorized by Roosevelt.

These two trick tickets contain the Washington Party Roosevelt electors, but they contain no candidate for Congress or the Legislature. What we felt would come has come—realizing the impossibility of electing Taft, the Penrose leaders in the State have thrown him to save themselves. How? Every vote in the Bull Moose or Roosevelt Progressive square will count for Roosevelt, but will not count for any Congressman or member of the Legislature.

Progressives of all parties and Republicans of principle, vote to put T. R. and his "big stick" to work on this crowd—vote the straight WASHINGTON ticket. 84-43 (Political Advertising.)

From 2,000 to 5,000 men are expected to be in the line of parade. There will be ten bands and a drum corps. In the first division will be Beaver valley delegations and Pittsburg marching clubs, speakers and their mounted escort in the second delegations from Washington, Canonsburg, Millsboro, Fredericktown, Brownsville, West Brownsville, California; in the third delegations from Marianna, Ellsworth, Bentleyville, Carroll, Monongahela, Donora; in the fourth, Monessen, Belle Vernon and Fayette City; and in the fifth division the Charleroi section.

The headquarters of the chief marshal will be on Fourth street between Fallowfield and Washington avenues. Dr. G. H. Smith is to be the color bearer. Horsemen will form an escort to the chief marshal. His aides will be C. C. Holyfield, James T. Heffran, John Cornell, John Anderson, J. O. Watson and Andy Chacko.

Chas. F. P. McCloskey, Henry Wagner, reception committee.

Fourth division, forms on Washington, fronting on Sixth, rear at Seventh. John K. Riekey, marshal; Jack Teitelbaum, Ray Emrick, aides; C. J. Mogan, D. A. Oates, Fred Brady reception committee.

Will Sing From Clouds

Miss Blanche Babette Formerly Charleroi Girl to Make Flight With Frank Coffin

Henry Hutt, whose beautiful painting of Blanche Babette, the popular dramatic soprano, is reproduced on the front page of the art section today, named the original "A Typical Irish-American Girl," and under that name it will be placed on exhibition this winter at the celebrated Paris Art Review.

"Miss Babette's career as a singer dates back to the time when as a child she appeared and was billed as the 'Juvenile Dramatic Soprano.' For four years she held the position of principal soprano in a large metropolitan church and was finally induced to enter upon a stage career. She jumped into popularity at once principally on account of her versatility and remarkable vocal ability.

"Of the stage Miss Babette is a typical Tomboy, doing all sorts of daring feats in athletics. Her ability to handle motor boats and automobiles has led her to cast longing eyes at aeroplanes and flying machines. She has already made a balloon ascension at the Danbury Fair and last week arranged to go as passenger with Frank Coffin in a flight he will make during the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven. Miss Babette promises that during the flight she will sing the popular songs of the day."

GIRLS' CIRCLE ENTERTAINED AT SPEERS' HOME

Miss Sara Speers entertained the Young Ladies Circle of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church at her home in Speers Tuesday evening. Miss Elma Collins led the meeting and "The Social Life in India" was discussed. Miss Collins was assisted by Misses Bessie Ritchie, Ethel Kendrick, Nina Grove and Marguerite Whitlatch. Miss Marie Whitehead gave a reading and Miss Emma Clutter sang a solo. Decorations were in accord with the sentiment of Halloween. A number of visitors were present.

Trespassers Themselves Blamed by Pennsylvania System

LARGE SUMS ARE SPENT

That the railroads of the country expect to "put up to the public" part of the responsibility for accidents was indicated recently when the Pennsylvania Railroad issued a statement calling attention to the fatalities on its road last year from trespassing.

Trespassers to the number of 527—more than one a day—lost their lives last year on the Pennsylvania Railroad, while violating the law. Many trespassers are mischief makers, according to the railroad. They smash signal and switch lamps place obstructions on the tracks and commit many other acts which endanger the lives of railway employees and the traveling public.

Last year the Pennsylvania Railroad Police Department spent more than $100,000 in its war against trespassing, but it is impossible for the Company's police satisfactorily to cope with the situation, according to the railroad. It needs the assistance of public opinion and the civil authorities.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's statement continued: "Trespassing endangers the lives of every one traveling on railroads. It can be stopped if adequate measures will be taken by the public. There are laws on the statute books. Their rigid enforcement will save the lives of many and will decrease the number of fatalities commonly ascribed to 'railway accidents.'"

MONONGAHELA VALLEY GREEKS ANSWER CALL

Numerous Real Estate Deals Put Through There During Last Few Weeks

It is stated that unusual activity in California real estate has marked the last two weeks, and transactions running well up into thousands of dollars have been reported. Many townspeople have purchased residences and a number of outsiders have bought real estate and residences in the town.

The fact that California is considered desirable as a residence and educational town on the river has helped boom real estate values, and good prices are being paid for property. There is also a greater demand for renting property than can be supplied.

ON SOUND BASIS NOW

Charleroi Choral Society Prepare for Musical Work

PROF. DANIEL DIRECTOR

Action was taken to put the Charleroi Choral Society on a firm financial basis at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church. Assessments of one dollar a season are to be paid by the various members and a number of the male members of the organization are to become guarantors. An effort will be made to start rehearsals two weeks hence when it is probably a hall will be secured. Prof. I. T. Daniel was formally elected director and Miss Elsie Crill accompanist.

A constitution was adopted. President Christy Roberts appointed two committees, as follows: Music committee, W. S. James, Dr. C. C. Wright, William Clark, A. L. Bowers, J. A. Bowman; application committee, Miss Blanche Frye, Mrs. C. C. Wright, L. E. Jobs, Miss Clara Cooper and D. C. Whitlatch.

A reception committee to look after the entertainment of speakers has been appointed by the Republican committee arranging the demonstration tonight as follows. Charles F. Thompson, chairman; K. W. Daly, Jesse K. Johnson, E. C. Niver, H. J. Booth, C. R. Peregrine, F. M. Haines, Lee Showers, Neri Newcomb and William Kirk.

Party of Noble Patriots Leave to Join Army Abroad

Reserves Drilling at Home Here in Anticipation of Demand for Troops

The Monongahela valley is to contribute to the Grecian army in its war against Turkey. Monessen where Greece is well represented has already sent out 15 patriots and are ready to follow at a moment's notice. Pittsburg has contributed, likewise Wheeling and other points where there are many Greeks.

The Monessen delegation of fighters left Sunday afternoon. Early in the afternoon a farewell reception was tendered the departing ones by their friends and neighbors. They were extended the good wishes and messages of cheer were sent abroad to those who are so nobly espousing the cause now.

Four hundred men are available at Monessen but the Grecian government has only called upon the reserves which left Sunday. They will be drilled in Greece for actual warfare. The remaining volunteers will be drilled at home here and should the war continue any length of time will be ready for action. They anticipate a call.

Included in some of the Monessen Greeks which have left are some of the best known men of this race in the vicinity. Some of them were compelled to sell out their business interests in order to answer the call. They were met at McKeesport by a number of patriots and went directly to New York from whence they will sail in a day or two.

MONESSEN AND DONORA ELKS TO PLAY FOOTBALL

Extensive preparations are being made by the Elk lodges of Monessen and Donora for a meeting of picked teams on the gridiron in the near future at Donora. Rube Watkins manager of the Monessen eleven is gathering an aggregation under his wing to cross the river and clean up on the Donora boys while the Coulson boys of Donora of Penn State and Bucknell fame, have in charge the marshaling of opposition that is expected to take some of the conceit out of the Monessen players.

Hurt By Auto.

RALLY, REPUBLICANS.

Once again Charleroi is in the lime-
the rallying point for the Republicans of the three counties bordering
on the Monongahela river, and it is here that the cohorts of the party of Abraham Lincoln proposes to show to
the state at large that the principles of Republicanism and protection
to American industry are still sacred
prosperity and well-being to the beneficent administration of this party. That being the case it behooves us as a community to put forth every effort to make the occasion a success, and every Republican
should show by his presence and participation in the big parade that he
is staunch for the principles that
mean so much for the material welfare of himself and his neighbors.

Charleroi has had the reputation
of making a success of every undertaking the people here have promoted, and it is safe to assume that this time will be no exception. It is most fitting that our people should turn
out en masse to receive the chief executive of the Commonwealth, as well
as to honor an esteemed townsman,
whom the people of the state have in
turn specially honored. It is a matter of civic pride as well as of principle that our Republican citizens
should again unite to sustain Char-
leroi's staunchness in upholding the chief executive of our state in his
loyalty to President Taft and the Republican party that elected him.
Therefore let every Republican take

THE FAITH OF OUR FATHERS

In individual and private life, as well as with public institutions, there
comes a time when the principles, the
ethics and even the conduct of life
of the elders are ruthlessly assailed by the younger generation. The elders, the fathers, who have borne the brunt of the battle, fought the fight, triumphed in the struggle for existence and firmly established political

and religious liberty on a solid foundation, are thought to be no
fairs they have given their life's
thought to be old-fashioned, non-progressive and out of date, and for that reason, new and untold forces seek to displace them. Those who in a thousand battles have learned wisdom,

the value of caution, safety and justice, are thrust aside to give place to
faith of the fathers becomes intoler-
able to the younger generation.

Republican party today. The party
that was founded on human liberty—
a protest against human slavery—
most violently assailed, yet its principles and precepts are as forceful
and applicable today as in the stren-
The party is as capable of a glorious
future as it is immortal in its glorious past. Equality, justice and humanity are unchanging, and these
are the attributes of Republicanism,
and they were upheld on a thousand
battlefields. Is it just and proper
that they should go down today and
give place to new and untried theories of government as unstable and illadapted to practical life as were the
vagaries of the French Revolution?

It is the faith of our fathers in religious matters that has caused Chris-
faith in political and civic liberty
can alone sustain us in this time of political unrest. The Republican party has the essentials of civic and
political liberty which can be adapted
to meet every requirement. If abuses
have crept into the party management they can be corrected. It is not necessary to tear down what has
the faith of your fathers. It is your only salvation in this, your time of stress and danger.

To evade taxes seems with some

Political sharps have it all figured

A man doesn't have to be an orator to take part in an oratorical debate he shouldn't be.

"While betting on election does not determine the result, it sometimes is a potent factor in
changing the tide in a close contest,"
said an old timer this morning, who
has been a close political observer
during a number of presidential campaigns. "Perhaps the most notable instance where betting turned the tide in a close state was in New York in 1888. That was the campaign where Grover Cleveland was renominated to run against Benjamin Harrison, and the latter won out by the
shrewd management of the late Senator M. S. Quay of Pennsylvania,
who was national chairman.

"Sure of victory, the Tammany
large sums of money and taking
Cleveland. The Republican chairman
felt the effect of this, and determined to bluff it down. Under the man-
New York, Col. Swords, Senator Quay sent a corps of nifty agents out with money to burn and cover all Democratic money at whatever odds were offered. So completely was
this done that under Col. Swords'
skillful manipulation the tide of betting was completely turned, and in a single day big odds were offered on Harrison with few takers.

"It was a shrewd trick on the part
of getting thousands of the sporting fraternity who had to hedge on the bets out to hustle for the Republican ticket. It is stated that hundreds of Tammany ward heelers in New York city who had bet heavily on Cleveland hedged on their bets and
then hustled for the Republican ticket in order to save themselves.
Senator Quay often remarked afterward that this was one of the most gigantic political bluffs he ever pulled off. It worked all right, and all the Republican money went out, except in some instances where impossible odds had been given.

"Some years ago when Hon. Joseph C. Sibley was making one of his congressional campaigns in the Verango district in this state, the situation was close with the chances decidedly against him. It is stated
young fellows in every election predicting who had sporting proclivities,
and made a personal visit to each
one. Buttonholing one of these it is said that Sibley would take him aside
and say:

"I'm sure to win out in this fight
and you will be safe to put some
money on the result."

"Usually the answer would be that
the young man did not care to risk
any money or that he had none to bet.

"Oh, that's all right," Sibley would
win you can keep the money. If you lose, you're not out anything."

"As a rule this offer was readily accepted and the result was that Sibley had an active bunch of hard political workers in each precinct who had a direct personal interest in his election, and who contributed materially
to his success, for he was elected in a district that usually voted the other way. This is a story that was told at the time, and while I cannot vouch
for its truthfulness, it is sure that Sibley was elected in a district that was ordinarily hopeless from his political standpoint."

Jobs, Warns Taft, Who Says
cent of Free-Trade Disaster.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft has
written a letter to John Wanamaker
efforts in behalf of the Republican party. Mr. Taft says:

"There are certain facts that stand out so prominently in this campaign
that I cannot conceive how a majority
the third party is a vote cast for the
cast for the Democratic ticket is a vote cast for economic experimentation, which, under the most favorable circumstances, would mean lack of
business confidence, the calling of
loans, a stringency of the money market, the suspension of manufacturing,
the destruction of the market for
farm products because the people had
no money to buy, and untold suffering
for the wage-earner and his family.

"I want to thank you for the splendid
the Republican party in the approaching election. I thank you not for myself alone but for the people at large,
who have so much to lose, so little to
gain, from a change of administration,
President and Democratic Congress
secure the opportunity to make good
March to change the tariff from a protective to a revenue basis.

"We have experimented in the past
with the tariff theories of our Democratic friends. You will recall as
clearly as I do the distress which followed the passage of the Wilson bill.
the fact that it is another Wilson who
periment? Wilson and prosperity are words that refuse to go together in our American history.

"You recall the report of Mayor Gil-
roy on conditions in New York when
he and his Democratic administration
conducted an investigation into the
hardship and suffering which pre-valled in 1894, and found that 185,000 persons were dependent on charity
because 52,000 men and nearly 15,000
women who under normal conditions
experienced no difficulty in securing
employment were out of work. You
can recall the days when, as the result of just such tariff readjustment
as our Democratic friends now propose, there were soup kitchens in every large city, when able-bodied
to door, while women and their little
starved in their development from the privation they were compelled to undergo.

"The election of a Democratic President would mean the election of a Democratic Senate and House, and
the present Congress has proved how
savagely and with what recklessness
the Democrats would deal with the
tariff if they were in full control of the executive and legislative branches
of government. I cannot understand how any American voter can fail to see that by throwing away his vote
on the third party or by voting to put
the Democrats in power in the White House and in Congress he is assuredly courting disaster as is the small child playing with matches. And so, Mr. Wanamaker, far above any personal consideration, I am grateful to you and to all who like you are help-

TAFT LANDSLIDE IN NEW YORK STATE

The New York Republican Chairman
Ticket Will Come to the Mariem

New York—At the Republican State
out by William Barnes, Jr., after a conference of the leaders:

Four hundred and ninety-five election districts out of a total of 3,105
outside of New York City report, through the canvasses completed, the following vote for President:

Taft	68,950
Wilson	51,264
Debs	1,955
Chafin	2,127
Roosevelt	13,363

Taft's plurality 17,594.

The same districts report as follows
for Governor:

Hedges	69,078
Sulzer	50,238
Russell	1,613
MacNichol	3,160
Straus	18,617

Hedges' plurality 18,840.

This ratio of vote, if carried out
throughout the entire State, indicates a vote outside of New York City for President Taft, as follows:

Taft	481,364
Wilson	321,037
Debs	12,394
Chafin	20,316
Roosevelt	114,560

Taft's plurality 110,224.

These canvasses are carefully made
last fifteen years.

WILSON AND LABOR

Contrast the Slurring Remarks of the
Actual Experience.

Efforts on the part of Candidate
Wilson and his managers to placate
labor do not seem to be meeting with
much success. The candidate's real
opinion of labor is too well known to
cause laboring men to grow wildly
enthusiastic over him.

In a baccalaureate address to the
graduating class at Princeton on June 13, 1909, Dr. Wilson said:

"You know what the usual standard
of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his
trades unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform.
No one is suffered to do more than
the average workman can do. In
some trades and handicrafts no one
is suffered to do more than the least
skillful of his fellows can do within
the hours allotted to a day's labor,
and no one may work out of hours at
all or volunteer anything beyond the
economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. It is an unspeakable to the employer that in some grades it will presently not be worth while to attempt anything at all. He had better stop altogether than operate at an inevitable and invariable loss. The labor of America is rapidly becoming
unprofitable under its present regulation by those who have determined
to reduce it to a minimum. Our economic supremacy may be lost because
of unprofitable servants."

Contrast the statement of Candidate Wilson with the following statement
at Cooper Union, New York:

"The effect of the organization of
labor, on the whole, has been highly
beneficial in securing better terms of
employment for the whole laboring community. * * * I have not
the slightest doubt, and no one who
unions steadies wages."

Candidate Wilson was talking as an
academician and theorist, with characteristic lack of exact knowledge.
President Taft was talking out of actual experience and knowledge gained
from primary sources. The contrast in the statements emphasizes the contrast in the men.

Do You Want to Send Our Automobile
Business to Europe?

Detroit, Mich.—"The American Protective tariff system is of vital importance to every American factory,
workshop and industrial plant. Be-
given the question of protection much
study for the past few years. During
that time there has been no effort to
lower the tariff rates or any really
concerted effort to change them that has not resulted in a serious industrial depression, with the further result that thousands of American workmen have been laid off and factories
men employed. As a nation we are paying the highest wages paid to mechanics and operatives anywhere in the world. Our prosperity is largely due to our tariff, which protects us
against the cheap labor and cheap
material of other nations.

"To illustrate: Take our business
in the manufacture of automobiles.
If we were assured that free trade is
to prevail in this country we could
close out our business here and transfer it to Belgium, Hungary, China, Japan, or some other country where
wages are at the present time from 10 to 50 per cent. of what they are
here, and where the material used is
also much cheaper than in this country. We could then, after paying freight, put these same automobiles
down in New York for perhaps 50 to 60 per cent. of the cost to make them
in this country, and the competitor in
the United States who continued to manufacture a car to compete with
us in price and quality would have
but one course left open to him, and
that would be to close his place and
with automobiles could be done with
the manufacture of boots, shoes, sewing machines, guns, machine tools, locomotives and nearly everything we manufacture in the United States.
"It is so forceful and convincing to
any thoughtful person when he reasons it out that if we buy an automobile, for instance, in Belgium, then
we have the automobile and they have
the money; and when the automobile is worn out we have no auto, and Belgium still has the money; and if we buy an automobile that is made in this country, then we have the auto the same as before and we also have the money; and when the auto is
worn out the money is here to buy
another one. The enormous advantage to the American workman and
business man is obvious.

"And the illustration applies with
equal force to almost every article
United States.

"Our long experience and our best
judgment tells us that if we elect a President who will close our business

Congress and Administration, it will
be followed by a serious depression
in all kinds of business, except the
importers' business; that thousands
of workmen will be without work; that many factories will close and others
will go on short hours.

PRESIDENT SEES VICTORY AT POLLS

Mr. Taft Says It's Open Secret That Progressives Do Not Expect Success and That Every Mail Tells of Wanderers' Return.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft issued a statement predicting Republican victory next month, and declaring it "obvious that either the Republican or Democratic nominees will be elected." He asserts it to be an open secret that "the third party does not

The President reviews business conditions of the country, which, he says, are unprecedentedly prosperous, and asserts the belief that the sober judgment of the voters will continue present conditions.

President Taft says that from all parts of the country assurances are coming that Democrats intend to vote for the Republican candidates and a continuance of prosperity and against the programme of economic confusion and socialistic subversion of American institutions supported by Democratic candidates and their allies. He calls attention to the great progress of the country since 1893 as regards the home and foreign markets, and says that the American manufacturer and worker would not have much spirit left for invading the foreign market if deprived by a Democratic tariff for revenue only of the home market, which they now control, thanks to the Republican protective tariff.

The President's Statement.

The President's statement follows: "Fifty-two years ago seceders from the Union thought they were facing a divided North and would win an easy victory. There had been division among the loyal people, but all united in face of the common danger and in addition a great number of Democrats joined the Republicans in the successful struggle for the nation's life. Then it was said by hostile critics that the ship of state was drifting. It drifted—yes—with Lincoln at the helm, from the reefs of secession and slavery into the placid waters of union and liberty. Under Lincoln's successors it has sailed on, propelled by the winds of prosperity, save when its voyage has been halted by just such a visitation of storm and stress of torn protection: rails and broken business bulkheads as we are now threatened with, should Baltimore supplant Chicago, which it did not in 1860, and will not in 1912.

"Our friends the enemy say that the Democracy has learned its mistakes and does not mean to repeat them. In some measure true as to the past; and the Republican party has had a difficult, if successful task in teaching the Democracy its mistakes, so far as it has been taught; but somehow the obstinate pupil comes forward every four years to be taught again.

"I am glad to say, however," the President added, "that many Democrats have learned their lessons well and are refusing to leave the firm ground of national prosperity for the quagmire of business disruption, trade depression and commercial and industrial depletion.

"From all parts of the country assurances are coming that Democrats intend to vote for the Republican candidates and a continuance of prosperous business conditions, and against the programmes of economic confusion and socialistic subversion of our institutions supported by the Democratic candidates and their allies. Democratic workmen refuse to be led from the factory and good wages of 1912 back to the Democratic hard times of 1893-97. They prefer independence and money in the savings bank to loss of employment and dependence on charity.

Pay Envelopes Feathers of Trade. "Democratic business men feel the same way. They know that when industries languish their business languishes, too. The pay envelopes are the feathers of trade in every form. When they are empty or scrippily the biggest department store feels the effect as well as the corner grocery."

President Taft continued: "Difting? Well, let me glance at some of the drift. Our home market has drifted from $7,000,000,000 in 1893 to $33,000,000,000—not a bad drift, that. And it is this magnificent home market, without equal in the past or present, that the Democrats propose to dismember and disorganize, and invite every nation in the world to pry open, while those same nations keep the barriers to their own markets just as high as they please.

"Then look at our foreign trade. A favorite Democratic argument is that Republicans build up and cultivate the home market at the expense of our foreign commerce. When the fact is that the growth of foreign trade has almost kept proportionate pace with the domestic—from $1,000,000,000 in 1870 to $4,000,000,000 in 1912.

"Our exports for the past year amounted to $2,170,319,324, of which $674,402,904 were manufactures ready for consumption, the largest export trade and the largest proportion of

manufactures ready for consumption the country has ever known.

Change Would Cost Home Market. "The American manufacturer and the American worker," President Taft declared, "would not have much spirit left for invading the foreign market if deprived by a Democratic tariff for revenue only of the best market of all, more than equal in purchasing power to all Europe, the home market, which they now control, thanks to the Republican protective tariff."

The statement goes on to say: "German foreign commerce is also making great advances, particularly among our neighbors of South America, but a suggestion that Germany should, for that reason, take protection out of its tariff would probably be received with arching of eyebrows by German statesmen and economists."

"And this unprecedented growth of our foreign trade is accompanied by expansion as unprecedented in our home trade from one end of the country to the other—the Atlantic to the Pacific, the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande. It is not a sudden inflation, but a gradual advance under favorable conditions from the prostration of 1901 to prosperity as substantial as it is general.

"All industries are humming and compared with wages abroad—for all who are willing to work, while in the Pittsburgh district, alone, I understand, there is a demand for at least thirty thousand workers in excess of the number available. Business, wholesale and retail, is active and profitable, for the people have money with which to buy. The question for the American voter is whether this condition shall continue, and the nation shall go forward to even greater prosperity."

"The farmers are enjoying the greatest prosperity in the experience of American agriculture. Every day the Northern Pacific is carrying a million bushels of grain to Duluth. The yield in that zone alone is 157,000,000 bushels, so that the conveyance by the railway of the farmers' grain from the region tributary to the Northern Pacific to that point of distribution will require 157 days. This vast crop is worth in excess of $200,000,000 to the farmers producing it.

"At the present the steel industry, commonly regarded as the barometer of business, is driven far ahead for steel rails. Other industries are equally active, and altogether national conditions and prospects were never so prosperous and promising, provided the American people decide to apply to their political choice the same good judgment and prudent foresight which they apply, as a rule, to their personal affairs.

"As we come nearer the day of election," says Mr. Taft, "it is to be expected that the intelligent voter will appreciate more keenly the responsibility which attaches to his ballot. In national elections, at least, the great majority like to feel that they are voting for a candidate who has a chance of success. It is obvious that either the Republican or the Democratic nominees will be elected, and not to vote for the Republican candidates is, in effect, to support their Democratic opponents and the Democratic platform of a 'tariff for revenue only,' freighted with dire consequences for the country, now busy and prosperous under Republican rule. It is well known to every one, an open secret on every street corner, that the Third Term party does not expect success."

The President continues: "A special correspondent of 'The New York Evening Post,' writing from Chicago, says: 'It may be said that neither Colonel Roosevelt nor any of the experienced politicians who surround him expects to carry Illinois or any other important state, with the possible exception of California and Kansas. From sources close to the candidate it is learned that Colonel Roosevelt will be satisfied if he can complete the demoralization of the Republican party.'

"It remains to be seen how many Republicans are willing to assist in completing the demoralization of the Republican party and handing the reins of government over to the Democrats to gratify mere desire for revenge.

"I believe that the Republican party will be found, as a whole," President Taft concluded, "too patriotic, too loyal to its principles and its traditions, too just in its attitude toward public servants whom it has intrusted with duties faithfully performed to commit 'warriers' in the form and for the objects indicated. Every mail brings assurances that those who have strayed are returning to the fold, and that in every state in which the Republican party is not disfranchised old-time majorities will be rolled up for the Republican candidates."

Governor Johnson's progressive administration of California has cost the State during its first year a million and a half more than the last year of the previous administration cost, and it is asserted that the holders of many new jobs created are required "voluntarily" to contribute ten per cent of their pay to the Roosevelt-Johnson campaign sack.

Nearly four years of honest, wise, efficient and economical Republican administration in national affairs has produced a condition where presidentialism is a factor in the economic life of the nation. Still there are those who are clamoring for a change for the purpose of altering our scheme of government.

The matter with Kansas just now seems to be an overdose of sick politics. Indications are that Kansas will reject the dose.

HIDEOUS PUNISHMENTS.

Murderers Were Once Buried Alive Tied to Their Victims.

Old time punishment for offenses at sea was most severe. The code of the time of Edward I. of England, drawn up for the government of his fleet on the crusades, provided "that whoso killed any person on shipboard should be tied with him that was slain and thrown into the sea. And if he killed him on the land he should in like manner be tied with the party slain and be buried with him in the earth."

In Elizabeth's time a thief was to be ducked three times, towed ashore at the stern of a boat and marooned with a loaf of bread and a can of beer. Mutiny was punishable by the culprit's being hanged by his heels "until his brains were beaten out against the ship's side."

The penalties imposed for sleeping on watch were progressive. For the first offense the man was to be "beaten" with a bucket of water; on the next occasion he was to be strung up by his wrists and to have two buckets of water poured into his sleeves; the third time he would be loaded with weights and bound to the mast; and for the fourth time he was to be hanged to the bowsprit, with a can a sharp knife, and so to hang and choose whether he would cut himself down and fall into the sea or hang still and starve."

Among the rules issued by Raleigh for the governing of his South American expedition in 1597 was that no man should be allowed to gamble for his arms or clothes nor the pain of being disgraced and made a swabber of the ship. A corporal punishment for blasphemy at this time was for the offender to be bound to the main mast with an iron bit between his teeth, the alternative being a scraping of the tongue. All sorts of odd and frequently hideous punishments are to be found described in old manuscripts. In 1775 a man found drunk aboard or ashore was taken care of until the following morning, when in the presence of the ship's company he was presented with a pint of salt water, which he had to drink.

The dreaded "cat" is probably the best known of these old naval punishments. Whipping was provided for at least as long ago as the fifteenth century, and in Drake's time the regular flogging of the ship's boys by the boatswain on Monday morning was regarded as the only means of insuring a fair wind for the rest of the week. —Chicago News.

Things He Says.

"He's a terrible drunkard, isn't he?"
"Yes, but he's a good citizen."
"How can that be?"
"Every time he has Jimjams he goes to the courthouse and pays taxes on a pack of pink and blue dogs."—Cleveland Leader.

Clergyman's Son Had Tuberculosis; Now Well

People who have Consumption are often filled with bright hopes of recovery, only to realize that improvement is but temporary. Consumption is dreaded by everyone. Those who had it and used Eckman's Alternative can testify to its beneficial effects. No one needs doubt there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Amelia, N. Y.
"Gentlemen: Prior to Feb., 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with tuberculosis, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing weight rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 pounds. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alternative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite. The first 15 months I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alternative."

E. H. COWLES.
"Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life. I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimonial." (Signed) REV. J. J. COWLES, Pastor Presbyterian Church.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system, does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of remedies, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

"By George, That's a Tonic for Your Liver"

Without Narcotics, Alcohol or Drugs.

It's a Wonder.

nerve strength. A tonic that builds you up in better condition than a six months' stay in a sanatorium.

Wade's Golden Nervine is sold at druggists, at five or ten cent packages, or seal on receipt of price, by the Gen. Medicine Company, St. Louis, Mo. It's worth a good many more dollars to you.

Wade's Golden Nervine is sold in Charlestown by Hennings' Drug Store.

Seventeenth Century Grocers.

Department stores would have fared hard in the seventeenth century, unless their proprietors could have induced parliament to grant more privileges than were allowed to other shopkeepers. The articles that a grocer might sell were definitely prescribed. They were "raysons, currants, sugar, spice, soap, candle, molasses, gunpowder, shot, match, tar, pitch, rosin, tobacco, cotton yarn, starch, bluing, prunes, figs, linseed oil, lead, olives, figs, Spanish white alabaster, alum, almonds, brimstone, lampblack and candle rushes."

No Money, No Marriage.
"A fortune teller told me that you are going to marry me," said the young man with the prominent nose.
"Did she also tell you that you are going to inherit a very large fortune?" inquired the girl with the matinee hair.
"She didn't say anything about a fortune."

"Then she is not much of a fortune teller, and you had better not place any reliance in anything she says."—Washington Herald.

Maternalism.

Kind Gentleman: What are you going to do, Johnny, when you become a man? Johnny—Nawthin! Kind Gentleman—What? Not going to do anything? Johnny—No. Just as soon as I started something, she would tell me to stop it.—Judge.

Never Tempted.

"George Washington never told a lie."
"Well, he wasn't much of a duffer, was he?"—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Byes on Bills.

RAINBOW IS A BACK NUMBER

"The rainbow isn't in it now with the socks worn by men," said, between stations, an elevated railroad guard to his neighbor on the platform and he continued:

"Just glance in there, will you, and let your eye range along at the men's feet. Purple, green, yellow, blue, red, gray, pink and black socks, and socks of one color with spots of another and socks with stripes in 'em and cross bars and socks of various colors mixed, and I'll bet with all those colors that knock back out of the rainbow, you see that one pair there with no color in 'em plainest of all? Sure, it's that pair of white socks, the only pair in the car; and you might travel here day after day and not see an other pair.

"They tell me, and I can just remember a little of it myself, that there was a time when men didn't wear anything but white socks. White socks, and maybe some gray, and then they came to black, but who'd have thought they'd ever come to this? I tell you— and he broke off to yell: "Umpty-ump street—tl Umpty-ump street—tl"

"The rainbow's a back number now," he added.

DO YOU KNOW, MR. VOTER, WHAT TAFT HAS DONE?

He has worked so quietly and so effectively that you have failed to notice it. You have had your mind distracted by the noise of wind-jamming politicians.

Mr. Taft works without brass and accompaniments. He is not a politician—he is a gentleman and a statesman.

He is satisfied to work out his constructive plans and to let his story give him due credit—even if you don't happen to know all he is doing and has done—even if he is not appreciated by unthinking people or those who won't take the trouble to learn for themselves what he has done for the country.

But you ought to know what he has done. It's your business, as a stockholder in the biggest concern on earth—the United States—to know Mr. Taft has—

Mines, turned a deficit in the Treasury into a surplus, wiped out the "white slave" traffic, established a board to take the tariff out of politics, secured 80 million a year taxes from corporations, negotiated peace treaties which were defeated by Democrats and so-called "Progressives," vetoed Free Trade tariff bills which would have destroyed American industries, stopped "pork barrel" river and harbor appropriations, created a Court of Customs Appeals, argued and secured legislation for a parcels post, protected thousands of government employees from the "political axe," maintained peace in Cuba, abrogated the unjust Russian passport treaty, enforced the eight-hour law, upheld the Constitution of the United States, recommended world-wide investigation of the cost of living, insisted on the passage of an Employer's Liability and Workmen's Compensation Law, established a Children's Bureau, placed the Post Office on a self-sustaining basis, saved millions by business methods, pushed work on the Panama Canal, will apply Workmen's Compensation Law to workmen in Canal zone, and many other acts and deeds too numerous even to mention briefly.

HOW PRESIDENT TAFT ENFORCED PURE FOOD LAWS.

Opponents of President Taft's administration and of his re-election have issued a pamphlet containing an attack upon his administration of the Federal health laws.

President Taft during his entire administration has displayed the keenest interest in the proper enforcement of existing Federal health laws. He has not been content with this, but has recommended to Congress comprehensive legislation providing for a bureau of public health under which all the activities of the Federal Government relating to that subject might be grouped.

On May 29th, 1911, the Supreme Court of the United States held that the Pure Food Act did not cover the knowingly false labeling of nostrums as to curative effect or physiological action. Less than a month later President Taft sent a ringing message to Congress demanding an amendment to the law.

On August 22, 1912, Congress heeded the message of the President, and passed an amendment which cures the defect in the law pointed out by the Supreme Court.

The Food and Drugs Act has been vigorously and effectively enforced from the beginning. The Act became effective January 1, 1907, and from that date over 4,000 cases have been transmitted to the Department of Justice for action. In practically all concluded criminal cases convictions have been secured. In seizure cases decrees of condemnation and forfeiture have uniformly resulted.

More than 1,000 cases have been successfully prosecuted since March, 1907. Since that date fines amounting to $30,000 have been assessed against defendants in criminal cases with costs of equal or greater amount, and decrees of condemnation and forfeiture have been taken against more than 500 shipments of foods and drugs. Reports received by the Bureau of Chemistry from its laboratories in different sections of the country show conclusively that the successful prosecutions of violators of the Food and Drugs Act have produced a marked improvement in the sanitary condition of factories and in the quality of foods and drugs.

MISSIONARIES TO TELL

OF FOREIGN WORK

The annual meeting of the Pittsburg branch of the Women's Auxiliary an Episcopal diocesan missionary society, will be held at St. James Memorial church Homewood, Pittsburg, Thursday. Lunch will be served in the parish house at 1 o'clock Thursday in the afternoon of which two missionary addresses will be given, one by Miss Wood of Wu-Chang, who will speak of educational work and conditions in China, and one by Rev. John J. Meem of Brazil, who will talk of the church in South America.

The second day's session on Friday will be held at the church of the Ascension at Ellsworth and Nevill streets. After morning devotional services a mission study class in Japan will be conducted by Miss Tillotson, of Ohio, assisted by Mrs. H. P. Allen, educational secretary of the Pittsburg diocese. Parish officers will discuss plans and problems and in the afternoon Miss Tillotson will conduct a model mission study class. The Junior Auxiliary will conduct a rally in Calvary Parish House Saturday.

ROOSEVELT OR WILSON. (Political.)

Taft is out of the running; the official ballot shows it. The Penrose Machine has, by trick, placed "Bull Moose" and "Roosevelt Progressive" tickets on the ballot besides the Washington ticket, the only one authorized by Roosevelt.

These two trick tickets contain the Washington Party Roosevelt electors, but they contain no candidate for Congress or the Legislature. What we felt would come has come—realizing the impossibility of electing Taft, the Penrose leaders in the State have thrown him to save themselves. How? Every vote in the Bull Moose or Roosevelt Progressive square will count for Roosevelt, but will not count for any Congressman or member of the Legislature.

Progressives of all parties and Republicans of principle, vote to put T. R. and his "big stick" to work on this crowd—vote the straight WASHINGTON ticket. 84-43 (Political Advertising.)
